STUDENTS' FEEDBACK

"A strong impression, which is difficult to obtain elsewhere, is left by the traditions of the University of Tartu. The special atmosphere of joint scientific research, not hampered by a rigid academic hierarchy, is still preserved. This feeling was also supported by the city of Tartu, a real student city. The history and traditions of the city are closely intertwined with the history of the university and student life. During the program we were able to see this from our own experience: the summer school included not only lectures and seminars, but also a very diverse cultural program with a visit to the numerous museums of the ancient Estonian town."
